

DISCLAIMER

This therapy is for soul healing. We intend the results of the therapy to be positive and intended by a higher power, however, these may be considered psychosomatic by some, as in astrology. There is no guarantee given for how the outcome of the session is perceived by your mind. It may depend on your responses, understanding and/or perspective.

Your decision to take the session is purely your responsibility.

Catharsis or instant healing happens for some people while some others may need a few days, weeks, months, or even years. Guidance and meditation given must be followed for healing to happen and for it to be sustained.

Further, your subconscious mind may reveal some information or provide guidance that could help bring about a positive change in your wellbeing. This may include working to change some habits of thinking or changing a situation of life that is triggering a problem.

Whether you choose to follow any such guidance or meditation is completely your choice and responsibility. Any repercussions that may arise from following the advice are solely your responsibility and the therapist cannot be held responsible for changes in your mind, or circumstance.

The therapy is not a replacement for other alternative therapies or medical treatments. This therapy or therapist cannot be held responsible for any negative happenings or mishaps occurring in the client's personal life.

Although the therapist will be as supportive and helpful as possible in all decision making and change processes, any resulting choices and changes made by the client remain the personal and legal responsibility of the client.

Sessions are programmed for your highest and best good. Family or friends may be called by the client during sessions and the client is free to record the sessions.

All the information that the client gives will remain confidential. If any story from the session is reported as an example for awareness purposes or research purposes, the identity of the client will be kept confidential.

You may call or text between two consecutive sessions for any disclosure, discussion, clarity or guidance. This service is available for the duration of your package only.

The safety of the client after sessions is purely his or her own responsibility. We are not responsible for any accident, suicide, homicide, family disagreements or force majeure.
